

BPHC is pleased to offer our members these two valuable trainings (see below). In addition, we continue to add new courses to our workforce training programs (see right column). Visit our website for updates.

Value Based Payment Training for Behavioral Health Providers: March 27

BPHC is providing a Value Based Payment (VBP) Training for behavioral health providers, presented by the NYU McSilver Institute for Poverty Policy and Research.

This training was developed to help behavioral health providers, including clinical leadership, frontline and administrative staff, understand how VBP arrangements will affect care delivery.

VBP Training for Behavioral Health Providers

Tuesday, March 27

9 a.m. – Noon

St. Barnabas Hospital
Auditorium – 1st Floor
4422 Third Avenue,
Bronx, NY 10457

Directions here. Parking is available.

E-mail Rebekah Epstein to RSVP or with questions.

The training will cover basic competencies necessary to prepare staff in moving towards VBP, including:

Overview of New York State VBP and Behavioral Health Care Collaborative (BHCC) process

Various payment models

Common risk sharing and gain sharing arrangements

Financial basics of shared savings arrangements

Understanding incentive alignment

This is the first training in a three-part module. The second and third parts will be offered later in the year.

Patient Privacy While Building an Integrated Delivery System Two-part Webinar: April 10 and 17

(1.0 CME credit available for each webinar)

The collection and sharing of patient health information is highly regulated by federal and state privacy laws that affect the flow of information that is so critical to our success in DSRIP. Join us for a discussion that will explore:

What are the key privacy laws that apply to organizations and what do they mean?

How do federal and state laws interact with each other and how does this affect information sharing?

What are some examples of how BPHC has navigated these privacy issues to overcome potential information sharing barriers?

What key questions should BPHC members raise with their legal/compliance teams to support information sharing?

Tuesday, April 10 and Tuesday, April 17

10 – 11 a.m.
